Eligibility

A Personal Retirement Bond is available to individuals that hold retained benefits in an Occupational Pension Scheme from a previous employment or a scheme that is winding up.

Contributions

Contributions cannot be made to a Personal Retirement Bond. A Personal Retirement Bond is a single premium account which is designed solely to accept a transfer from an occupational pension scheme and/or from another Personal Retirement Bond contract.

Transfers In

Transfers can be accepted from other pension arrangements including:

- i. other Personal Retirement Bonds approved by the Revenue Commissioners;
- ii. from Occupational Pension Schemes approved by the Revenue Commissioners in line with scheme rules; and
- iii. from Occupational Pension Schemes, PRSAs or Retirement Annuity Contracts as a result of a Pension Adjustment Order.

Transfers Out

The full value of your Personal Retirement Bond is available to transfer to another pension arrangement such as:

- i. other Personal Retirement Bonds;
- ii. Occupational Schemes; and
- iii. Overseas Pension Schemes (subject to certain Revenue restrictions).

Benefits

You can take benefits from the Normal Retirement Age of the transferring Occupational Pension Scheme/Personal Retirement Bond (this can be age 60 to age 70). In certain circumstances, you can take benefits earlier such as if you retire from employment at age 50 or over or if you can no longer work because of a serious illness or disability.

The amount of your benefits on retirement depends on the transfer value paid into your Personal Retirement Bond, the investment return on your portfolio and Revenue limits and restrictions.

The Davy Personal Retirement Bond offers flexible retirement options. You are entitled to take benefits in one of two ways:

Option 1

- ▶ A once-off lump sum of up to one and a half times final salary (based on the service with your previous employer)*; and
- ▶ The balance of the fund must be used to purchase an annuity.

Option 2 (this option may be restricted where the transfer is from a Defined Benefit Scheme)

- ▶ A once-off lump sum of up to 25% of the value of the assets*; and
- ▶ The balance of the fund must be transferred to an Approved Retirement Fund ('ARF').

* The first €200,000 of a lump sum is tax free and the next €300,000 is subject to tax at the standard rate (20% at January 2015). The balance over this limit is subject to marginal income tax (up to 40% at January 2015) and levies. The maximum lump sum is subject to the limits applicable to your occupational or statutory scheme and limits set down by the Revenue Commissioners.

Death Benefits

In the event of your death before you take benefits from the Personal Retirement Bond, the full value of your portfolio at the date of payment will be transferred to your estate but may be subject to inheritance tax in the hands of your beneficiaries.

Risks

PRODUCT RISK

You are responsible for making some or all of the investment decisions in relation to your Personal Retirement Bond. Your choices may not be the best options. As a result, there is a risk that the Personal Retirement Bond may be underfunded and/or the value may be insufficient at retirement so that your long-term retirement needs may not be met. It is important that you seek independent professional advice prior to making any decisions which have tax, legal or other financial implications.

INVESTMENT RISK

The value of your Personal Retirement Bond at retirement will depend on the original transfer value and the investment return achieved over the life of your Personal Retirement Bond. The investment return is not guaranteed. The value of your investment may go down as well as up.

INFLATION RISK

Personal Retirement Bonds are a long term investment and the effect of inflation can erode any 'real' investment returns over time.

Charges

- i. There are no set up charges.
- ii. There is an annual charge.
- iii. For Execution-Only accounts, there will be an annual dealing charge for any number of transactions, subject to overseas charges for non-Irish/non-UK listed instruments.

In all cases, other charges apply.
